21st Annual CNTA Charity Golf Tournament a Great Success

Citizens for Nuclear Technology Awareness (CNTA) held their 21st Annual CNTA Charity Golf Tournament on May 12, 2023, at Houndslake Country Club in Aiken, SC.

Executive Director of CNTA, Jim Marra, said the event was a great success.

“We had 30 teams participate in a beautiful day of golf,” Marra said. “This tournament is one of CNTA’s most important fundraisers and is a fun, competitive event for participants. This year, we raised net proceeds of approximately $23,000 that will be help CNTA promote and educate the public on nuclear technology. We also had over a dozen donors to our community gift card program, which raised over $700.”

The winning contest participants and their teams include:

- First Low Net- Southern Nuclear Plant Vogtle (Joel Leopard, Byron Brown, John Kelly, Steve Brown)
- Second Low Net- Atkins (Tom Bowes, Frank S, Dexter Aquinde, Phillip Coretti)
- Third Low Net- Sultans of Swing (Paul Young, Brandon Reagan, Roy Fields, Andrew Large)
- Low Gross- Wesworks (Jerry Faulk, Daniel Faulk, Tommy Faulk, Pat Cunning)

Marra added that CNTA was greatly appreciative of the volunteers and donors who helped make this year’s golf tournament a tremendous success. “CNTA exists as a grassroots organization, and events like these would be impossible without our community’s support.”

Plans are already underway for the 22nd Annual CNTA Charity Golf Tournament. It will be held at Houndslake Country Club in Aiken, SC, on May 10, 2024. Details and team sign-up will be available in February.
