CNTA Holds 2026 Member Appreciation and Annual Meeting

Citizens for Nuclear Technology Awareness (CNTA), the area's non-profit organization for nuclear education, recently held a membership appreciation breakfast and 2026 annual meeting.

Held at Newberry Hall in Aiken, the event highlighted the accomplishments of the organization in 2026. Some of the accomplishments included:

- Conducted nuclear education outreach to more than 9,000 community members, educators, and students;
- Awarded $20,000 in scholarships and grants to area students and teachers;
- Published 22 press releases about CNTA activities;
- Hosted 14 community events, including Up & Atoms, Tap Into Nuclear, and more;
- Raised funds for CNTA outreach and education initiatives at the Charity Golf Tournament;
- Hosted the 34th Annual Teller Lecture celebrating the 75th Anniversary of the Savannah River Site; and
- Published the inaugural Nuclear Science Week Magazine, which has been viewed 225,000 times online.

CNTA offers free memberships to students and young professionals (under 40), and to K -12 educators to further CNTA's outreach to these key educational partners.

"We are proud to have spent another year being the voice of truth on nuclear matters in the CSRA," said CNTA Executive Director Allison Hamilton Molnar. "Our grass-roots organization continues to grow and help our communities understand and appreciate the role nuclear plays in all of our lives."

Upcoming events include the 2026 Charity Golf Tournament at Houndslake Country Club, May 8th; and CNTA Night at the Augusta Greenjackets, June 4th. CNTA members will also hold a number of Up and Atom breakfast series lectures and will attend the DIG STEM Festival in Williston.
